1 Socrates

Faced with a choice that he could get out of jail by Crito bribing the guards, Socrates chose not to escape and, thus, to die.

1.1 Crito - Argued consequentialist reasons for Socrates to escape jail

If you escape, this and this and this will happen.

1.2 Socrates - Argued reasons of virtue to not escape jail

It does not matter what happens after I escape if escaping is wrong.

2 Aristotle

2.1 Teleology

- Telos - End, Purpose, Goal

- Aristotle claimed that all living things have a Telos
